

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand how host and pathogen characteristics influence treatment outcomes and can guide regimen composition and duration
- Learn about emerging prognostic tools and adjunctive treatment advances that can predict and improve treatment outcomes